Dear Parents/Carers,

On Tuesday 13th September, it is Roald Dahl day, which is particularly special this year as it commemorates the 100th year since his birth.

At Norwood many of your children have read and heard his stories over the years, and these have inspired some of our topics and learning.

During Roald Dahl day children across the school will celebrate this occasion with quizzes, the creation of new characters in the style of Roald Dahl, and hopefully share favourite passages from some of his well loved books.

If your child (or indeed you!) has a book written by Roald Dahl that they have a particular interest in, we would encourage them to bring this in to share with their class on Tuesday (having their names written somewhere on the book would be useful).

The following website has lots of accessible information, games and activities to share with your child at home to further learn about this incredible author and his 100th anniversary:
